Nonhomogeneous first order linear Malliavin type differential equation

Tijana Levajkovic

University of Belgrade

Abstract:

We consider a nonhomogeneous first order linear equation involving the Malliavin derivative operator with stochastic coefficients and provide the chaos expansion method for solving. We prove existence and uniqueness of a solution in a certain weighted space of generalized stochastic distributions and represent the obtained solution in the Wiener-Ito chaos expansion form.